Welcome to Central Scotland University College!

- Today, each tutor group will become the Students' Association for the newest tertiary institution in Scotland.
- Throughout the day, you'll be working on activities, receiving visits from sector organisations, and experiencing a day in the life of quality!

What's the purpose of this activity?

This simulation will give you the chance to:

- try out some of the learning you've gained over the course in practice in a safe space.
- develop problem-solving, critical thinking, communication, negotiation, teamwork and time management skills.
- learn from your fellow officers and staff members.
- meet sector agency staff you'll work with in your roles.

What will I need to do?

- In tutor groups, you'll become the students' association of CSUC.
- You won't be allocated specific roles e.g. President.
- You will receive communications into your in-tray throughout the day and make decisions as a group about how to handle them.
- You'll also be receiving two visits throughout the day – one from Education Scotland and QAA Scotland and the other from the Scottish Funding Council.

Introducing:

- Ellie Gomersall, NUS Scotland
- Fiona Burns, Scottish Funding Council
- Margaret Rose Livingstone & Caroline Turnbull, Quality Assurance Managers, Tertiary Quality Assurance Agency
- Tina Harrison, Assistant Principal, Academic Standards and Quality Assurance, Central Scotland University College

SAVE THE DATE...

SESN:

Thursday, 29th
September

NEON:

Thursday, 6th
October

NEON and SESN jiscmail

- Following requests from officers about setting up a NEON mailing list – this is now LIVE and you can sign up here!
- You can sign up to the SESN mailing list here.
- Both members and sparqs can email around all those on the list to ask questions, share experiences or seek support
- Optional – you sign up
- Useful to have one easy, accessible space to speak to all Education officers/student engagement staff.
- The mailing is not over-used, so semi-regular contact but not overwhelming.
