sparqs Contacts

Head of sparqs: Eve Lewis

Mobile: 07813 014679

Email: eve.lewis@sparqs.ac.uk

As Head of sparqs, Eve is responsible for managing the agency on behalf of the Scottish Funding Council. She provides strategic direction and management support to the sparqs team, and maintains close links with other sector agencies both at home and abroad. Eve took up the post of Head of sparqs in July 2010. Previously, she was Education and Welfare Manager at Heriot-Watt University Students' Association for eighteen years, managing their non-commercial activities including their extensive work on academic representation.

Institutional Support and Development Manager: David Scott

Mobile: 07977 980867

Email: david.scott@sparqs.ac.uk

David leads on two of the strategic aims of sparqs work; supporting students to engage in their university/college experience and supporting the development of student engagement practices and activities in institutions and their students' associations. Previously, he was Head of Learner Services at Dundee and Angus College with responsibility for a range of academic support services as well as working for Education Scotland as an Associate Assessor. David joined sparqs in June 2014.

Development Consultant: Simon Varwell

Mobile: 07815 938966

Email: simon.varwell@sparqs.ac.uk

Normal work days: Monday to Thursday

Simon works within our first two strategic aims. He leads various projects relating to topics including the development of certain Course Rep Training courses, support for Course Rep Training co-ordinators, sectoral toolkits relating to school level and internal review engagement, accreditation and reward of reps, and Student Partnership Agreements. He is also responsible for our Twitter content and Talking Student Engagement interview series. He is a graduate of the University of Aberdeen, where he was President of the Students' Association, and has previously worked for UHI Millennium Institute (the precursor to the University of the Highlands and Islands) and Glasgow University SRC. Simon has been with sparqs since 2007 and is based in Inverness.

Development Consultant: Hannah Clarke

Mobile: 07966 104056

Email: hannah.clarke@sparqs.ac.uk

Hannah's main work area is around working to support student engagement with national sector agencies and policy development. She oversees sparqs' work around the QAA Enhancement Themes and works with students to determine what public information is useful, to feed into the reviews of KIS and NSS. She is working to establish a regional student group on articulation, part of a joint project with ELRAH (Edinburgh, Lothians, Fife and Borders Regional Articulation Hub) to increase student engagement in articulation. Hannah previously worked in college articulation at Glasgow Caledonian University and in student support services at the University of St Andrews. She is a graduate of the University of St Andrews and the University of London. Hannah joined sparqs in June 2014.

Development Consultant: Simon Jones

Mobile: 07469 354246

Email: simon.jones@sparqs.ac.uk

Simon's role focuses mainly on institutional support within the new regionalised college sector, to enhance the role and structures of students' associations and promote the student voice in learning and teaching and the wider life and work of Scotland's colleges. He is a graduate of the University of Sheffield and has previously worked in the fields of criminal justice, substance misuse and microfinance. Simon joined sparqs in January 2015.

Development Consultant: Morven Stewart

Mobile: TBC (please contact via 0131 622 6599 in the interim)

Email: morven.stewart@sparqs.ac.uk

Normal work days: Monday to Wednesday

Morven is a previous sparqs Associate Trainer and has currently joined the main staff team on a temporary basis, to complete a number of projects, including revising our Course Rep Training materials for supported education students, following delivery of these sessions for sparqs during the past academic year. Morven's other main work areas are around the pupil voice in schools and our work with apprentices.
